

Mario Turner

Associate

Mario Turner brings over a decade of experience in health care advocacy to provide compassionate and effective representation as a personal injury attorney. His extensive public service background gives him a unique understanding of the health care system, which he applies to help clients navigate complex personal injury cases.

A Sacramento native and proud graduate of CSU Sacramento and Lincoln Law School, Mario is deeply connected to his community. When he's not advocating for his clients, he enjoys cheering on the Sacramento Kings, playing basketball, and attending live music events. At home, he values time with his family and his four dogs, finding balance between his professional and personal passions.
